Texas Retailers Endorse State Rep. Paul Workman in HD 47 Republican Primary

Austin, TX – Today, the Texas Retailers Association Political Action Committee (TRAPAC) endorsed State Representative Paul Workman (R-Austin) in the Republican primary for House District 47.

“Rep. Workman has been a strong supporter of Texas businesses both large and small during his time in the House,” said Stephanie Gibson, Vice President of Governmental Affairs for the Texas Retailers Association (TRA). “He has a proven record of conservative leadership and brings 37 years of business experience with 28 being in Travis County, to his position as State Representative. Rep. Workman understands the business community and knows the value of keeping taxes low and regulations consistent so that small businesses have new opportunities for growth. The TRA applauds his efforts and is confident that he is a right choice for HD 47.”

“I am proud to receive the endorsement of TRAPAC as my re-election campaign kicks off and gains support,” said Rep. Workman. “As a business owner, I know the importance of creating an atmosphere where Texas businesses are able to flourish in our economy and have the opportunities to be industry innovators and community leaders. I know that a strong support of Texas business means a strong support of the Texas workforce and I am committed to protecting and creating jobs for HD 47.”

The Texas Retailers Association Political Action Committee is the political arm of the Texas Retailers Association (TRA). The TRA is a statewide trade association representing members in virtually every sector of the retail industry in Texas. Texas retailers employ 1.9 million Texans, comprising 18% of the Texas workforce, delivering nearly $360 million in sales annually.
